EXPRESSIONS OF HEARTY SATIS FACTION WITH THE NEW SERVICE

Leading Journals of the South Congratulate the Southern Associated Press on the Results of Its Alliance with the Latted Press - Palse Statements Sent Out by the Chiengo Organization-The Newspapers that Are Served by the S. A. P.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.-Two requests have been received from the leading cities in the Southern States, whose chief newspapers comprise the Southern Associated Press;

1. That expression be given to their satisfaction at the marked improvement in their news service, which has resulted from the recent ratification of an exclusive alliance with the United

2. That some exposure be made of the fals statements and perversions of fact continuously sent out by the Chicago organization, styling itself the Associated Press,

The first request can be readily complied with, as will appear by the telegrams subjoined. The exclusive contract of the Southern Associated Press with the United Press went into effect or Nov. 30. In the brief period since intervening the newspapers served by the United Press re ceived far in advance of their contemporaries details of the disastrous cyclones in Florida, Alabama, and Georgia; news of the arrest in Chicago of Seely, the great bank defaulter of New York; an accurate analysis of the commercial features of the new Japanese treaty, and exclu sive information on many other important mat-

The news service of the Southern Associated Pressince it formed its resent alliance with the United Press has been the most satisfactory service we have ever had, it has given all the "news," and presented it in a way that has met the entire approval of a large and intelligent constituency.

We are pleased with the service because it covers the whole field of legitimate newspaper enterprise, because it is promoted with the service because it is promoted by the property of the property of the said that "our Western rivals are doing everything in their power to belittle the S. The State once looked back with longing to the United Press's leased wire service it enjoyed several years ago, but it no longer has reason for regret. The Southern Associated Fress service in has been receiving for the last ten days direct the combination with the United Press is far the best which has ever been sent South, and is thoroughly satisfactory in quality and volume. I may add that the service of South Carolina news now furnished to the Southern Associated Press from Columbia and Charleston is tenfold better than any association tornierly received.

Compliance with the second request to expose the false statements sent out by the Chicago organization is impossible within the limits of reasonable space. It is part of the tactics of this organization whenever it is signally beaten to claim a great victory. This was conspicuously made manifest in the test suit it brought before the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to winforce one of its extraordinary contracts against a Washington newspaper. The Supreme Court denied its pleadings on every point and threw the case out of court with cost against the association. Yet the Chicago organization announced that this was "a great victory for the Associated Press." In like manner when "scopped" by the United Press on the news of the death of the Russian Emperorand, more recently on the news of the death of the Canadian Premier, this organization sent out claims that it had "distanced all competitors." Numerous untruthful statements have been circulated by that organization that United Press newspapers had suspended or had been sold out, and one or two heavy libed suits are impossible or the arganization because of these deliberate faisifications. The loss to its revice of nearly the entire South was column by this organization as being "a disruption of the cream of the news business in the cotton states." To this a Western hewspaper promotity as left in the service of the Associated Press matched for the Associated Press (The only Softhern Associated Press the Columbia Remaier, when have subscribed for the Associated Press (Western) service are the Columbia Remaier.

Petersburg Index-Appeal, and Atlanta Journal. The New Orleans papers (two of them) have been taking the Western service for a year. The Southern Associated Press has lost but three clients, which were paying from $25 to $50 per week, excepting the New Orleans papers, and has applications for service from many points opened by the news war.

The fact is that the association was never more united and determined or on a stronger financial footing. The Chicago organization has secured, all told, only four or five subscribers in the territory of the Southern Associated Presspapers which have been paying rates for services which have not covered the telegraph tolls paid by the association for carrying the news to them. The Chicago people saw fit to out even these rates nearly in half in order to secure patronage, and as a consequence are new enjoying the luxury of a leased wire service south of Mason and Dixon's line at a great financial loss. At Richmond alone the service which is being rendered to an afternoon paper is costing the Chicago organization at the rate of about $3,000 more per annum than it will receive for the news, and nearly the same condition of affairs is said to prevail at the other three or four points where the Western service is rendered.

THE COWLES ENGINEERING CO. Why Was It Allowed to Occupy Brooklyn's Land Without Paying for It!

At the meeting of the Brooklyn Board of Aldermen yesterday this resolution was presented by Alderman Carey and adopted: "Blereas. A former Board of Aldermen authorized the purchase by the city of a large tract of land at the foot of Forty-third street, South Brooklyn, for the sum of $30,000; and "Whereas, Almost immediately the land was occupied, and a large machine shop erected thereon, by a corporation known as the Cowles

Alderman Cary said that it was understood that some members of the former Board of Aldermen, as well as some other ex-officials, had been connected with the company. Three years ago the company built the fireboat David A. Beody and did other work for the city. It failed a few months ago.

KENNEDY BROTHERS HANGED. Both Men Confessed and Professed Religion Before They Died,

JASPER, Tenn., Dec. 17.—Gen. and John Kennedy were hanged here to-day. Both men made a confession before the drop fell, and the General also stated that they had been implicated in other robberies. They professed religion yesterday and were baptized by a Methodist minister.

The crime for which John and Gen. Kennedy were hanged was the murder of James S. Lowry, an exceedingly popular young man of 23, and employed by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railroad as night operator at Shellmound. Early on the morning of Oct. 24, 1893, Lowry was lying on a cot in his office, with the door locked, fast asleep. Armed with a rusty shotgun loaded with sluks and turkey shot John shorgun loaded with slugs and turkey shot John Kennedy approached the window of the telegraph office, followed closely by Gen. Kennedy. Taking deliberate aim he emptted the load into the face and head of the sleeper. Gen. Kennedy then crawled through the window over the leeding body and rifled his clothes and the cash drawer.

The mucderers were trailed with bloodhounds to their home in the Ætna Mountains and arrested. Gen. Kennedy made a confession implicating his brother John and Josephus, a younger cousin, who was acquitted at the trial.

The house which Mr. Belmont has taken for the winter is the De Barrios mansion. With its suite of spacious drawing rooms ending in the conservatory, the house gives suitable opportunities for Mr. Belmont's hospitality. There are in the house some remarkable wood floors, polished to the sheeny brightness of the surface of plate glass. Mr. Belmont's party, besides being his first contribution to the pleasures of the season, was also the first entertainment in the De Darries house since Mme, de Barries, new Mme. de Roda, gave her private representation of the garden scene from "Faust," with the De Reszke brothers and the late Mme Schirmer-Mapleson in the cast. The supper was served at round tables, and then to the music of Lander, and under the lead of J. Wadsworth Ritchie a cotillon was danced. Among the guests of Mr. Belmont were:

ABT WAS IN THE MINORITY. He Interfered With His Daughter's Sparking and Got the Worst of It.

Louis Abt of 99 Franklin street, Jersey City Heights, has a very pretty daughter, Mary, 18 years old. She has a lover who visits her every Sunday and two or three evenings during the week besides. Mr. Abt and Mary's lover are not on good terms. Mary and the young man, however, have the moral support of Mary's mother, and with that backing the young couple paid no attention to the father's objections.

On Sunday night Abt suspected that Mary was entertaining her lover in the parior, and he crept quietly down stairs. The light in the parlor was dim, but there was enough of it to enable the old man to see Mary altting on the young man's lap. A lively row ensued. Abt drove the young man from the house. Mary's screams brought her mother to the scene, and then the joint screams of mother and daughter attracted a policeman.

Abt was arraigned before Police Justice Dong-las yesterday morning. Mrs. Abt testified that her husband had dragged Mary around the room by her hair and pulled out a quantity of her blond tresses.

"What have you to say?" asked Judge Doug-las addressing the prisoner.

"What have you to say?" asked Judge Doug-las, addressing the prisoner.
"Well, Judge," he answered, "when I went into the parlor I found her sitting on that fel-low's lap, and I don't propose to have anything of that kind going on in my house. I pay the rent and I want good order there. My wife and daughter clubbed me, and I think the police-man ought to have arrested them instead of me. The prisoner was remanded in default of bail, and mother and daughter left the court room without even glancing at him.

borrowed finery enhanced her beauty to such an extent that the Court was deeply impressed. Sentence was suspended and she was discharged. She failed to return the finery, and now we ask for her conviction for larceny, Judge Hudspeth looked surprised at the prosecutor's remarks, and he blushed as a rippie of laughter passed over the court room.

"One minute there, Mr. Noonan!" he exclaimed. "You are laboring under a mistake. The impression made by that young woman was on the Jury and not on the Court. The jury acquitted her."

Mr. Noonan made a suitable apology.

The woman from whom the defendant had borrowed the clothing testified against her and she was convicted.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH. A Woman and Two Children Periok in . Maine Village Fire.

GARDINER, Me., Dec. 17 .- About 3:30 o'clock this morning a house in Randolph, owned by Amos Marson and occupied by a woman and to death. A neighbor who lives opposite was awaked by some one shouting, "Fire!" and, running across the street, broke in a window and pulled a little girl from the burning house, but she was already mortally injured. After the fire had been extinguished the body of the fire had been extinguished the body of a little boy was found lying face downward across the threshold of the door between the kitchen and bedroom. The body of the woman was found in the kitchen and her body and that of the boy were burned beyond recognition. The children were known as Lillie Folsom, aged 7, and George Folsom, aged 4. The woman had given several different names, but in a libble found in the house was the name "Mrs. William McReady." When taken out of the house the little girl had all her clothing on. She died before a physician could arrive.

It is impossible to obtain the facts regarding the cause of the fire, but from what is known of the woman's habits it is possible that she was intoxicated and tipped over a lamp.

USURERS DROVE HIM TO CRIME.

Albert Alberts Tells the Police How He Came to Be a Burglar. There is no doubt now that Albert Alberts, the burglar who is in the Tombs prison, is the man who kept the hill section of Jersey City in a state of terror for about three months. The Jersey City police have confronted him with so much evidence that he has made a partial confession. Inspector Lange took a letter to him from his wife and he broke down. She had not seen him since Dec. 5. She begged him in the letter to make a full confession, and assured him that she would not desert him in his trouble.

Detective Smith took Elmer E. Hile to the Tombs on Sunday to see the prisoner. Hile is the husband of the plucky little woman who Tombs on Sunday to see the prisoner. Hile is the husband of the plucky little woman who gave the burgiar such a hard fight on the night he broke into her rooms in Union street, Jersey City. It was not expected that Hile could identify the burgiar, because he remained in a profound sleep all the time that Mrs. Hile was struggling with him, but there were some key and a pocket knife in the bucket of Hile's trousers that the burgiar carried away. Hile identified the bocket knife found on Alberts as his property. The identification of the knife, the police claim, fixes Alberts's identify beyond doubt. The police also claim to have pestive evidence that Alberts wrote the letters to Mrs. Hile negotiating for the return of the property stolen from the house.

Alberts told Inspector Lange yesterday how he became a burgiar. About a vear ago he took to pedding oil, and he berrowed money from one of the numerous brokers who loan that commodity at usurious interest. He borrowed sto for three months, and gave notes for $55 to secure the loan and the interest, and also a mortrage on his furniture. When the notes fell due he was unable to meet them, and he negotiated a similar loan from another broker, giving more notes and another mortgage on his furniture. In aslocit time a third loan was procured from still another broker. Alberts saw that he was about to be awamped unless he could raise money in some other way, and he became a burgiar. He says he first got in with a gang of thieves and sold their plunder, but afterward went into the business on his own account. Chief Murphy will see Judge Fitzgerald at the Tombs Court to-day and urge him to suspend sentence in the case to which Alberts pleaded guilty, so that he may be taken to Jersey City.

The Animal Was Doused with Kerosene Oil, and Then a Match Was Applied. A large brown rat was caught about 11 A. M. yesterday at 5 Ludlow street, and was brought in a box to the street. Some kerosene oil was procured from a neighboring store by Meyer Rosenberg, aged 24, of 7 Ludiow street, and poured on the rat. A match was applied, and off started the biszing rat pursued by a crowd of men and boys. The sport did not last very long, for some one jumped on the rat as it tried to cross the street, and so ended its misries. Policeman Hodge of the Eldridge street sta-

Policeman Hodge of the Eldridge street sta-tion arrested Resemberg in a barber's shop, into which he fied. The crowd, which was about three hundred strong, made several ill-organ-ized attempts at a rescue, but the policeman marched his captive off in triumph.

When Hosenberg was brought before the Essex Market Court, Hodge testified that he had seen him strike a match on his heel and set the kero-sene alight. The prisoner denied the charge, saying that he was only a spectator. He was held for trial in $300 ball. THEY WANT THE REWARD.

Belated Claims of the Detectives Who Caught Lyman S. Weeks's Murderer, Mrs. Lyman, the wife of Detective Sergeant Lyman of this city, yesterday made formal application to Mayor Schieren for one-half of the $5,000 reward offered by the Brooklyn authoritles for the capture of the murderer of Lyman S. Weeks. Mr. Weeks was shot and killed by Burglar Greenwald in his home in De Kalb avenue on the night of March 15, 1887.

Soon after the murder Greenwald and the thieving gang to which he belonged were arrested in this city by Detective Sergeants Lyman and McManus. Greenwald was twice convicted of the crime and was hanged in Raymond street jail on Dec. 9, 1889. No demand has ever been made for the reward until the present time. Mrs. Lyman explained to the Mayor that her husband regarded the arrest of Greenwald simply in the line of his duty, but now that he is disabled and in noor circumstances she thinks he should receive one-half the reward. Detective Sergeant McManus will claim the other half. Mayor Schieren has referred the matter to Corporation Counsel McDonaid. avenue on the night of March 15, 1887
